Thinking the Future
Zukunft denken

RWTH Aachen University is one of Germany's pre-eminent Universities of Excellence, which entails the highest quality in teaching and world-class research. RWTH addresses bold, scientific questions; it also assumes a profound responsibility toward society and transfers its knowledge into meaningful applications. RWTH strives for the convergence of knowledge, methods, and findings from its research fields and integrates in-depth disciplinary knowledge into interdisciplinary research consortia represented as profile areas. The university's dynamic, creative, and international environment encompasses efficient research networks, institutionalized cooperations, and, most of all, the innovative RWTH Campus-Project which harbors one of the most extensive technology-oriented research landscapes in Europe.

Junior Professor (W1, tenure track) in mucosal infection biology Faculty of Medicine/Uniklinik RWTH Aachen

This is a junior professorship appointment with a tenure track career path towards a W2 professorship. For further information about the tenure track process, please visit www.rwth-aachen.de/tenuretrack.

We are seeking qualified applicants for teaching and research in the area of mucosal infection biology. The starting date is as soon as possible.

The applicant must demonstrate expertise in studying direct interactions or underlying mediators between microorganisms and mucosal tissues in the gastrointestinal tract based on experimental approaches in cell biology, immunology, microbiology, or bioinformatics. The position is located at the Institute of Medical Microbiology and must complement already existing expertise within the institute. We expect internationally recognized scientific contributions, funding, and teaching experience.

Interdisciplinary scientific co-operation with other departments and clinics of the Medical School, with the research areas of the RWTH Aachen University including SFB TRR 57, SFB TRR 219, SFB 1382, KFO 344, IRTG 2150, GRK 2375, PAK 961, CIO^{ABCD}, JARA, IZKF AACHEN, with the Institute of Biomedical Technologies (IBMT) and with other research institutions of the Euregio (e.g. University of Maastricht) are encouraged. In addition, an active commitment in the new medical student's curriculum of the Medical Faculty ("Modellstudiengang Medizin Aachen"), in the curriculum of dentistry and the master program "Biomedical Engineering" is expected.

You should have a completed university degree and a special aptitude for scientific work which is generally verified by means of an outstanding doctorate. Ability in and commitment to teaching are essential. The application should include supporting documents regarding success in teaching and a teaching portfolio. German is not necessary to begin but will be expected as a teaching language within 5 years.
